At every stop, distinctive and one-of-a-kind pottery will be on display and available for sale. Browse hundreds of new pieces of useful pottery fresh from the kiln! Spend time discovering unique handmade pots displayed throughout the homes, yards, and studios of the artists. Get to know the potters in person!

You'll find a piece of locally-made pottery to suit every taste from the perfect coffee cup that fits your hand to museum-quality work for the discerning collector. There will be lots of useful pots from planters to pie plates to serving ware for exciting dinner parties, or an intimate dinner at home. Converse with the artists and learn how they find passion and inspiration in their work. A few studios may feature demonstrations of pottery making, too! Take home the beauty you discover and delight in the joy of using handmade pottery all year long. Or share your new find as a gift for a friend.
